

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: 23 July 2026

Last Updated: 23 July 2026

Luvio Labs (PVT) Ltd. (“Luvio Labs”, “we”, “our” or “us”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal information.

This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, store, disclose and protect personal information when you:

- Visit www.luviolabs.com
- Contact us through our website, email, phone or social media
- Request a quotation, consultation or service
- Become a client, supplier, contractor or business partner
- Apply for a job, internship or other opportunity with us
- Use a digital product, website, application or service operated by Luvio Labs

By accessing our website or providing personal information to us, you acknowledge the practices described in this Privacy Policy.

1. Who We Are

Luvio Labs (PVT) Ltd. is a Sri Lankan technology, digital marketing and business consulting company providing services such as:

- Website and web application development
- Mobile application development
- Custom software, SaaS, CRM, ERP and POS solutions
- UI/UX design
- Digital marketing and social media management
- Search engine optimization
- Online advertising
- Branding and content development
- Business and technology consulting

For personal information collected for our own business activities, Luvio Labs generally acts as the data controller.

When we process personal information on behalf of a client, such as information stored in a website, application, CRM or marketing system developed or managed for that client, we may act as a data processor or service provider. In those situations, the relevant client is generally responsible for deciding how the information is used.

2. Information We Collect

2.1 Information You Provide Directly

We may collect information that you voluntarily provide, including:

- Full name
- Email address
- Telephone or WhatsApp number
- Company name and job title
- Country or general location
- Information submitted through contact forms
- Project requirements, business needs and service enquiries
- Quotation, proposal, contract and payment information
- Messages and communications sent to us
- Feedback, reviews or survey responses
- Meeting notes and consultation details

2.2 Client and Business Information

When you become a client, supplier or business partner, we may collect:

- Business contact information
- Billing and invoicing information
- Contractual information
- Project documentation
- Login or system-access details provided for a project
- Technical requirements
- Communication and approval records
- Service usage and support information

Payment card details may be processed directly by banks or third-party payment providers. Luvio Labs does not intentionally store complete payment-card information unless clearly stated and lawfully required.

2.3 Website and Technical Information

When you use our website or digital services, certain information may be collected automatically, including:

- IP address
- Browser type and version
- Device type and operating system
- Referring website
- Pages viewed

- Date, time and duration of visits
- Links or buttons clicked
- Approximate location derived from an IP address
- Cookie identifiers
- Website performance, diagnostic and error information

2.4 Job Applicant Information

When you apply for employment or an internship, we may collect:

- Name and contact information
- Curriculum vitae or résumé
- Education and employment history
- Skills, qualifications and portfolio information
- References
- Interview notes
- Salary expectations and availability
- Other information voluntarily provided during recruitment

Please avoid including unnecessary sensitive personal information in your application.

2.5 Information Received from Other Sources

We may receive information from:

- Social media platforms
- Advertising and analytics providers
- Referral partners
- Publicly available business directories
- Recruitment platforms
- Clients or business partners
- Third-party tools used to operate our services

We will use such information only where we have a lawful and legitimate reason to do so.

3. How We Use Personal Information

We may use personal information to:

- Respond to enquiries and contact requests
- Understand your business or project requirements
- Prepare quotations, proposals and service agreements
- Provide, maintain and improve our services
- Manage client projects and communications

- Develop websites, applications and software solutions
- Provide technical support and maintenance
- Process invoices and payments
- Manage our client, supplier and partner relationships
- Schedule meetings and consultations
- Send requested service information
- Send marketing communications where permitted
- Measure website and campaign performance
- Improve website usability and user experience
- Protect our website, systems, clients and users
- Detect fraud, misuse or security incidents
- Manage recruitment and employment processes
- Maintain business and accounting records
- Establish, exercise or defend legal claims
- Meet legal, regulatory and contractual obligations

We will not use personal information for purposes that are materially incompatible with the reason it was collected unless permitted by law or we obtain appropriate consent.

4. Grounds for Processing Personal Information

Depending on the circumstances, we may process personal information based on:

- Your consent
- Steps taken at your request before entering into a contract
- Performance of a contract with you or your organisation
- Compliance with legal or regulatory obligations
- Protection of our legitimate business interests
- Protection of the rights, safety or security of Luvio Labs, our clients or others
- Establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims
- Other grounds permitted under applicable law

Where we rely on consent, you may withdraw it at any time. Withdrawal will not affect processing that took place before consent was withdrawn.

5. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

Our website may use cookies and similar technologies to operate correctly, remember preferences, understand website usage and measure marketing performance.

These may include:

Essential Cookies

These cookies support website security, navigation, form functionality and other features necessary for the website to operate.

Analytics Cookies

Analytics tools may help us understand how visitors find and use our website, which pages are viewed and how the website performs.

Preference Cookies

These cookies may remember settings such as language, display or consent preferences.

Advertising Cookies

Where enabled, advertising technologies may measure campaign performance, prevent repetitive advertising and help deliver more relevant promotional content.

Where required, non-essential cookies will be used only after receiving appropriate consent. Available cookie preferences can be managed through the website's cookie banner, browser settings or applicable platform settings.

Disabling certain cookies may affect website functionality.

6. Marketing Communications

We may send information about our services, company updates, offers or relevant business content when:

- You have requested it
- You have provided consent
- You are an existing client and the communication is relevant to our business relationship
- The communication is otherwise permitted by applicable law

You may unsubscribe through the link included in a marketing email or by contacting us at hello@luviolabs.com.

Service-related messages, project updates, invoices and security notices are not considered marketing communications and may still be sent when necessary.

7. How We Share Personal Information

We may share personal information with trusted parties where reasonably necessary, including:

- Cloud-hosting and infrastructure providers

- Website analytics providers
- Email and communication platforms
- CRM and project-management providers
- Payment processors and financial institutions
- Advertising and social media platforms
- Professional advisers, including lawyers and accountants
- Contractors, developers, designers and consultants supporting a project
- Government, regulatory or law-enforcement authorities where legally required
- A buyer, investor or successor involved in a merger, restructuring or transfer of our business

These parties may process information only for authorised purposes and are expected to maintain appropriate confidentiality and security safeguards.

We do not sell or rent personal information to third parties.

8. Client Project Data

During software-development, digital-marketing, hosting, support or consulting projects, Luvio Labs may access personal information controlled by a client.

In these circumstances:

- The client determines why and how the information is processed
- Luvio Labs processes the information only to deliver the agreed services
- Access is limited to authorised team members and service providers
- Appropriate confidentiality and security measures are applied
- Requests from individuals may need to be directed to the relevant client

Clients are responsible for ensuring that information supplied to Luvio Labs has been collected and shared lawfully.

9. International Data Transfers

Some service providers used by Luvio Labs may store or process information outside Sri Lanka.

Where information is transferred internationally, we will take reasonable steps to ensure that:

- The transfer is permitted under applicable law
- The recipient provides an appropriate level of protection
- Contractual or organisational safeguards are used where necessary
- Information is transferred only for legitimate and specified purposes

10. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purpose for which it was collected, including legal, accounting, contractual and security requirements.

Our general retention periods may include:

- Website and service enquiries: up to 24 months after the last meaningful communication
- Marketing information: until consent is withdrawn, the person unsubscribes or the information is no longer required
- Client and supplier records: for the duration of the relationship and generally up to seven years afterward, where required for business, accounting or legal purposes
- Job applications: generally up to 12 months after completion of the recruitment process, unless a longer period is agreed
- Technical and security logs: generally up to 12 months, unless needed for investigation or legal purposes
- Project information: for the project duration and an appropriate support, warranty or legal period afterward

Information may be retained for a longer period where required by law, necessary to resolve a dispute or needed to establish or defend a legal claim.

When information is no longer required, it will be deleted, anonymised or securely archived.

11. Information Security

We use reasonable technical and organisational safeguards intended to protect personal information against:

- Unauthorised access
- Accidental loss
- Misuse
- Alteration
- Disclosure
- Destruction

These measures may include:

- Access controls and user permissions
- Password and authentication controls
- Encrypted connections
- Secure hosting environments

- System monitoring and backups
- Confidentiality obligations
- Restricted access to client information
- Software updates and vulnerability management

No online system or method of electronic storage can be guaranteed to be completely secure. Users are responsible for protecting their own passwords, devices and account information.

12. Your Privacy Rights

Subject to applicable law and any lawful exceptions, you may have the right to:

- Ask whether we process your personal information
- Request access to your personal information
- Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete information
- Withdraw previously provided consent
- Request deletion or erasure of information
- Request that certain processing be stopped or restricted
- Object to certain uses of your information
- Request a review of certain automated decisions
- Submit a complaint regarding how your information has been handled
- Appeal or complain to the relevant data-protection authority

To exercise a privacy right, contact us at hello@luviolabs.com.

Please include enough information for us to understand and verify your request. We may request reasonable proof of identity before disclosing, changing or deleting personal information.

We will respond within the period required by applicable law. Certain requests may be refused or limited where information must be retained for legal obligations, contractual requirements, security, fraud prevention or legal claims.

13. Children's Privacy

Our website and services are primarily designed for businesses and are not directed to children under 18.

We do not knowingly collect personal information directly from children without appropriate permission from a parent, guardian or other lawful authority.

Where we become aware that a child's information has been collected without appropriate authorisation, we will take reasonable steps to delete or otherwise lawfully manage that information.

14. Third-Party Websites and Platforms

Our website may contain links to third-party websites, social media pages, payment services or other platforms.

Luvio Labs does not control the privacy or security practices of these third parties. Users should review the privacy policies of external websites or services before submitting personal information.

15. Social Media

When you interact with Luvio Labs through platforms such as Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, TikTok, WhatsApp or other social networks, the relevant platform may collect and process information under its own privacy policy.

Information you publish publicly may be visible to other users. Avoid sharing confidential or sensitive information through public comments or posts.

16. Automated Processing and Artificial Intelligence

Luvio Labs may use automation or artificial-intelligence-assisted tools to support activities such as:

- Content drafting
- Data analysis
- Customer-support assistance
- Software development
- Recruitment administration
- Marketing optimisation
- Website or campaign reporting

We will take reasonable steps to avoid submitting confidential or sensitive personal information to such tools unless appropriate safeguards, permissions and contractual arrangements are in place.

We do not intend to make decisions that produce significant legal or similar effects solely through automated processing without appropriate human involvement where required by law.

17. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy to reflect:

- Changes to our services
- Changes to our data-handling practices
- Changes to technology or service providers
- Legal or regulatory developments

- Security or operational requirements

The updated version will be published on this page with a revised “Last Updated” date. Material changes may also be communicated through the website, email or another appropriate method.

18. Contact Luvio Labs
